2. Evaluate concepts and theories surrounding the core subfields of business, including management and strategy, marketing, finance, HR, IT and entrepreneurship, and be able to apply them creatively to develop business opportunities.
3. Critically review and analyse business data, select appropriate methodological techniques to solve business problems and present, defend and advocate insights and ideas.
- 2 Demonstrate a range of professional attributes, judgement and informed analytical skills to evaluate problems, apply creativity in designing and implementing solutions and effectively communicate responses in a modern, global business environment.

Learning outcomes

5. Contribute to business development, analyse information to solve complex business problems, accept accountability and gain a critical understanding of ethical implications in business and the wider social context.
6. Demonstrate the ability to work collaboratively as a team member in interdisciplinary and multicultural environments and exercise autonomy, self-direction and initiative as a team leader in dynamic and complex business situations.
7. Demonstrate self-awareness and the ability to initiate professional development and the development of others, through coaching and mentoring to function effectively and ethically in complex business environments. Be amenable to engaging with new developments and practices within business.
8. Articulate the wider social, political and business contexts within business and the need for high ethical, professional and legal standards in the workplace and towards stakeholders and society.

Career opportunities

Graduates of IBAT Dublin's Bachelor of Arts (Honours) in Business Level 8 programme will be prepared to pursue a wide range of career opportunities across diverse industries, both in Ireland and internationally.

The programme equips students with versatile business, leadership and analytical skills that employers highly value. Career paths include roles in management, marketing, human resources, finance, operations and business development.

Graduates may also find opportunities in areas such as project management, entrepreneurship, digital business and consultancy. The programme's strong practical focus combined with applied business projects and industry-relevant modules, ensures that graduates are ready to pursue dynamic roles in fast-paced business environments or progress to postgraduate study for further specialisation.

Who is this Programme for

This programme caters to both recent school leavers and mature students seeking a comprehensive business education. We equip you with a strong foundation in core business principles while emphasising the critical skill of analysing data for informed decision-making.

Benefit from a supportive learning environment and a curriculum designed to meet the challenges and opportunities of today's international business landscape.

Programme Structure

Develop a strong foundation in core business principles through a well-structured curriculum. Each academic year includes 24 teaching weeks, designated study weeks for focused learning, and strategically scheduled assessment periods across multiple semesters. You'll engage with a diverse range of modules, with approximately half assessed through coursework and the rest through a combination of coursework and final examinations.

Years 1 and 2 consist of core modules designed to provide essential theoretical knowledge in business concepts and principles, along with practical insights to support business planning and prepare you for a successful career in business management or entrepreneurship.

In Year 3, you'll select one of three elective pathways, subject to minimum numbers, each worth 20 ECTS credits:

Elective Pathway 1: Marketing

Elective Pathway 2: People and Organisations
